

SPECTRACELL TESTING

Finally, after 18 years of research, there is a PATENTED SCIENTIFICALLY BASED MEDICAL APPROACH to vitamin supplementation created by SpectraCell Laboratories. Total Health Solutions, Inc. uses this new diagnostic technology which involves specific diagnostic blood tests that can IDENTIFY AND QUANTIFY YOUR VITAMIN AND MINERAL DEFICIENCIES. This specific diagnostic blood test takes the guesswork out of supplementing with nutraceuticals (vitamins). These tests can measure an individual's nutritional history for a period of four to six months, versus traditional serum (blood) testing which has a narrower window of function and cannot determine what nutrients have successfully been absorbed within your living cells. And, the good news is that the test components are REIMBURSABLE BY MOST PRIVATE INSURANCE COMPANIES (PPO, EPO, POS) AND MEDICARE.

There is overwhelming evidence confirming that vitamin deficiencies are associated with a myriad of disease processes as well as the overall condition of your health. Nutrient status is a vital foundation of health and each micronutrient plays an indispensable role in promoting optimal functioning of our cells. When cells do not function at their best, the foundation of our health is compromised, setting the stage for the development of disease. Because each of us is metabolically and bio-chemically different, the micronutrient requirements for one person are often different than the requirements for another. Every individual has unique deterrents to the absorption of nutrients. EVEN IF YOU EAT A BALANCED DIET, EXERCISE, AND TAKE A MULTI-VITAMIN, THAT DOESN'T MEAN YOU ARE SUPPLYING YOUR BODY WITH WHAT IT NEEDS BASED ON YOUR UNIQUE GENETIC MAKEUP. You could be potentially throwing away your money taking things not needed or that don't work.

University research shows that 50% OF PEOPLE TAKING SUPPLEMENTS REMAIN DEFICIENT. Are you one of those people? Stop throwing your money away.
